participants of key issues and focus areas that could be addressed in the guide. The more a word or phrase was articulated, the larger the word appears in the cloud. The full results of the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats gathered as a part of the engagement process is found in the Community Profile located in the Appendix.

Where Did the Goals, Policies, and Land Use Map from the Community Plan Go?

The existing Community Plan content was used in the development of the Community Action Guide and Policy Plan of the Countywide Plan. Goals and policies from the existing community plan discussed during the community workshops were considered for inclusion in the County Policy Plan and Land Use Map, components of the Countywide Plan. The Land Use Map will be adopted as part of the County Policy Plan. The content of the Community Action Guide focuses on those actions identified by the community that the community is willing to take to make desired changes to their community. The County Policy Plan and the Community Action Guide will be web-based, with adoption of the Countywide Plan in 2019.

Relationship of the Community Action Guide to the Countywide Plan

In 2010, the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors set out to establish a vision for the future of the county as a whole, and subsequently adopted a Countywide Vision in 2011 after two years of input from the community and the county's 24 cities and towns. Following the adoption of the Countywide Vision, which calls for the creation of a "complete county", the Board adopted the County paradigm and job statements in 2012.

In 2015, the County of San Bernardino launched an effort to go further than any county or city has ever gone with a general plan by creating a web-based comprehensive "complete county" plan. General plans are almost always strictly rule books for guiding development and growth. The County's General Plan update, last updated in 2007, goes well beyond a traditional general plan to become a comprehensive Countywide Plan that complements and informs the Countywide Vision by taking into account all services—not just land-use planning—provided by County Government, and the unique values and priorities of each unincorporated community.

The Countywide Plan serves as a guide for County decision-making, financial planning, and communications. Its web-based format provides a wealth of easily accessible data on how the County operates, and allows independent research using County data and information.

The Countywide Plan includes:

- A County Policy Plan, which serves in part as the County's General Plan for the unincorporated areas and also provides guidance for regional county services. The Policy Plan establishes goals and policies for the entire county as well as specific subregions and communities.
- A County Business Plan, which contains governance policies and operational metrics that outline the County's approach to providing municipal and regional services.

- A Regional Issues Forum, which is an online resource for sharing information and resources related to issues confronting the entire county.
- A Community Plans Continuum of 35 Community Action Guides, which articulates what is important to each Community; sets out an Action Plan based on community input, and for the most part, would be implemented by the community; and provides a Community Profile. Links will also be provided for maps, goals, and policies in the Countywide Plan.

The Draft Community Action Guide for Public Review

The final format of the Community Action Guide will be web-based and provided online. This printed version of the Draft Community Action Guide is provided as a courtesy for simplifying community review, but may not be available once the online version of the guide is finalized. A draft version of the web-based Community Action Guide can be found at www.countywideplan.com/cp. This printed version includes the information provided on the website under each tab except for the information included under the “Maps and Links” tab. A separate Community Profile can be printed from the website.

This Draft Community Action Guide was created by the community members who attended workshops, provided comments online or sent in written comments. It is written in the words of those participating in the public engagement process. Therefore, the Community Action Guide retains the voice and future image of the community presented by the community members participating in the public engagement process. However, the implementation of each Action Statement is an opportunity for additional discussion by community members and modification of the statement and action steps may be made by the community and Action Teams.

How to Use This Community Action Guide

Overall, the Community Action Guides are a framework for communities to create the future character and independent identity, as identified in the workshops as community values and aspirations, through completion of community actions. As stated at the community workshops, the Community Action Guides replace any 2007/2014 Community Plans, with a greater focus on community self-reliance, grass-roots action, and implementation. Goals, policies, land use, and infrastructure decisions are addressed in the Policy Plan of the Countywide Plan. The County Development Code will still regulate zoning and land development.

The Community Action Guide is strategic in nature and provides clear Focus Statements and Action Statements identified by the community that led to creation of an Action Plan that can be implemented at the grass-roots level within each community. Some actions may require assistance by a County department, but the community will take the lead in moving the action forward, identifying funding or scheduling meetings or requesting information from specific County departments.

A detailed implementation plan and training module will be set up by the County to guide communities in identifying Champions, setting up Action Teams, contacting County departments and answering questions. In addition, the County’s role will be clarified. This information will be included on the website for easy reference by communities.

The Community Action Guide Is Not Set in Stone

This is your Community Action Guide to be used to guide community actions and is not “set in stone”. Champions, Action Leaders and Action Teams should be identified by your community or created by organizations, community groups or community members who volunteer to champion, lead or participate. The Action Plan Matrix includes a general set of tasks that can be modified by the Champions, Action Leaders and/or Action Teams to best fit your community needs at the time of action implementation. The Action Teams could include people who were not at the workshops and may have additional input to enhance the Action Statement or action steps. The community should feel free to make changes and find alternatives for completing actions. You may decide to expand the action, modify it or only select to complete a few tasks of the Action Plan.

Community Action Guide Organization

The Community Action Guide is organized into three main sections, the community’s Values, community’s Aspirations, and Action Plans. An appendix has a Community Profile with a summary of the social, cultural, economic and historic dimensions of the community as well as the communities input on strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats.

Values – Those shared assets, principles, standards, mores and in the judgement of the community, what is important to the lives of its residents and businesses. (Identified in Workshop #1 and reviewed and finalized in Workshop #2)

Aspirations – A written narrative illustrating the community’s desired look and function once the Community Action Guide is fully implemented. This is a long-term view of 10 to 20 years. It is written as if the community’s desired changes have already occurred. (Identified in Workshop #1 and reviewed and finalized in Workshop #2)

Action Plans – The Action Plans consist of:

- A Focus Statement, which provides general direction towards realizing the Community’s aspirations and help organize the plan. (Identified in Workshop #2 and reviewed and finalized in Workshop #3)
- An Action Statement, which is a measurable statement providing critical information on the program, initiative or project to complete. (Identified in Workshop #2 and reviewed and finalized in Workshop #3)
- Action Plan Matrix, which provides a general set of action steps necessary to implement the Action Statement, identifies those that would initiate and champion the action statement, a general timeline for implementation and identified resources for additional assistance. (Created to support and guide the Community’s identified Focus and Action Statements)

The Focus Statements and Action Statements of the guide are not prioritized. It is up to the community to select the three to five priority Action Statements that they wish to begin implementing. The related Action Plans for each Action Statement provide guidance on the actions and timeline that may be necessary to implement the Action Statement. The Champions and Action Teams should review the Action Statement, Benchmark, and Action Steps. They may even hold a public meeting to get additional input before starting implementation of a specific Action Statement. Changes may be made as new input is received.

The Community Action Guide as a Living Document

The Community Action Guide and the Countywide Plan are designed to be web-based and therefore will be easily updated. The Community Action Guide is intended to be championed and implemented by the Community. The Focus Statements and Action Statements within the guide were created through public engagement workshops by community participants.

The guide is meant as a way to organize activities and provide overall direction to move the Community forward. The guide should never be considered to be written in stone, but should be malleable as the needs of the community continue to change. Focus Statements and Action Statements should be changed and amended as Action Statements are completed or new priorities take their place.

The Community should consider reviewing its guide annually to celebrate what was accomplished and make changes to the guide, as necessary, to ensure it is a relevant work plan. Communities should report back to the County as they complete actions to ensure their online guide is updated with success stories included on their website and to ensure their Action Plans are updated reflecting completed actions. As communities complete their Action Plans, the County will determine when to revisit the community to expand or modify their Action Plans.

How to Implement the Community Action Guide and the Community Development Toolkit

The Community Action Guide provides a general organization of the action steps necessary to implement each Action Statement. The Community may want to meet to identify the top three to five priority Action Statements to work on first. Some of these may be those actions that the community believes could be completed quickly and easily. Completion of one Action Statement will provide the community and local groups with the motivation to move forward with another Action Statement.

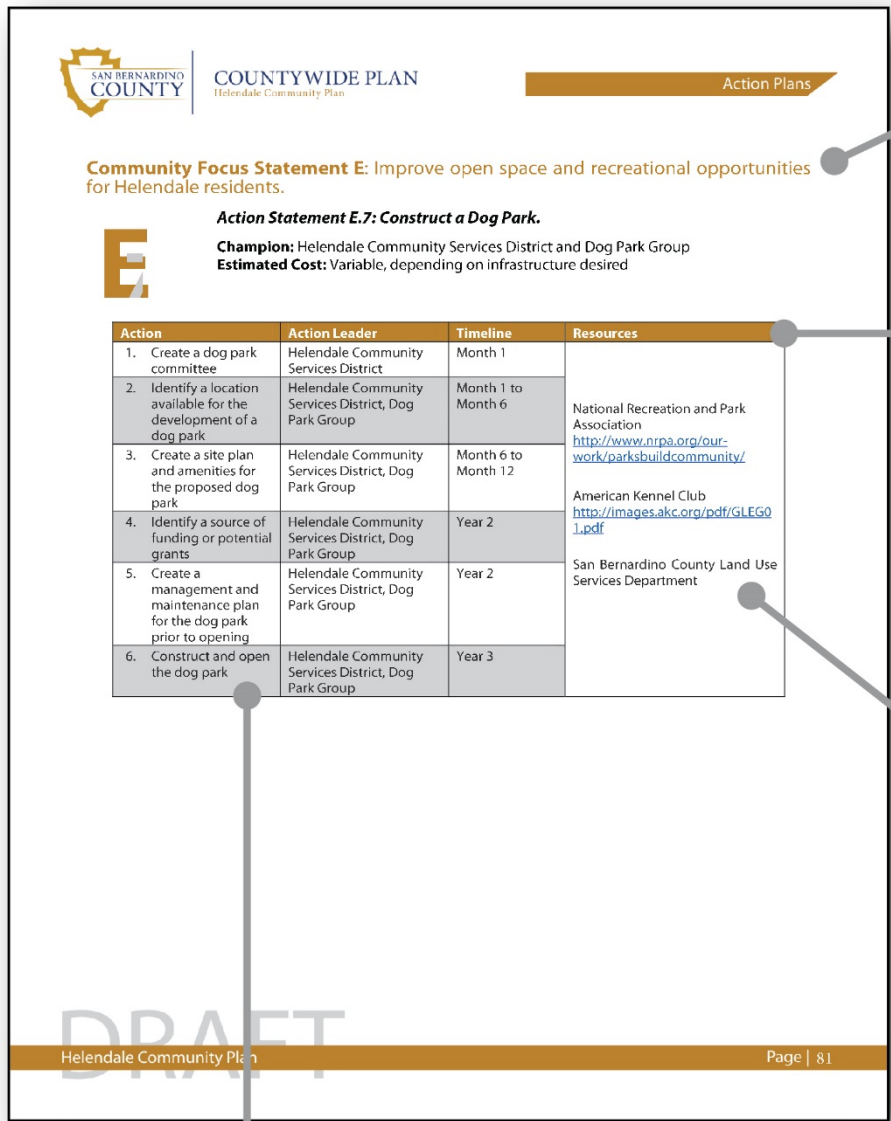

Once an Action Statement is selected for implementation, the community identifies a Champion for that Action Statement to initiate activities, identify those responsible for carrying out action steps, identify and secure resources that will be required, and develop a timeline. The champion is not responsible for completing the action, but serves to facilitate and guide the Action Team. While suggested action steps are included in the guide, each community should develop more specific assignments based upon available community resources such as volunteers (e.g., individuals, businesses, property owners, etc.), community groups (e.g., chamber of commerce, non-profits, etc.) and organizations (e.g., scouts, community service districts, churches, schools, etc.). This step of planning for implementation is an important first step necessary to help ensure successful implementation.

Potential resources are identified for each Action Statement. These may be guides on implementation, case studies of how other communities have implemented similar projects, sources of potential external funding, and organizations and agencies that can provide guidance and advice. In addition, San Bernardino County Land Use Services Department is creating an online Community Development Toolkit to be located at www.countywideplan.com to expand the action topics and guidance on implementation as well as ideas for future amendments or additions to the Community Action Guide.

A more detailed Implementation Plan will also be included on the website. The Implementation Plan will include information about how to inform the County about changes to your Community Action Guide. In addition, we will want to know when you start working on an Action Statement and when you complete it. It is important for the community to celebrate completion of each action.

Each Action Statement Champion and Action Team should review and refine the Action Statement and Action Steps before moving forward.

Values Statement

The Values are those shared assets, principles, standards, mores, and in the judgment of the community, what is important in the lives of its residents and businesses. A community's values are an important consideration in shaping its aspirations, focus and actions.

As a community we value:

Rural Desert Lifestyle. Homestead Valley residents value the rural lifestyle and character of the area, which includes wide open spaces and stretches of unpaved roads, fresh air, dark night skies, and a peaceful and quiet atmosphere.

Independence. Homestead Valley residents value the independent nature of the community – rugged individualism, the freedom to live the way they choose, self-sufficiency, and privacy.

Natural Environment. Homestead Valley residents value the natural beauty that defines the desert, including magnificent landscapes, wildlife, beautiful sunrises and sunsets, and living within nature.

Conservation and Preservation. Homestead Valley residents see themselves as stewards of the environment and value the wise use of water, protection of natural resources, and the natural landscape.

Community. Homestead Valley residents value the “sense of community” that living in the same place with friendly, helpful, likeminded people provides.

Aspirations Statement

The Aspirations Statement is a written narrative illustrating how the community desired look and function once the Community Focus Statements and Action Statements are accomplished. This is a long term view of 10 to 20 years. The Aspirations Statement serves as a foundation for developing Community Focus Statements and Action Statements.

In Homestead Valley, we aspire to have:

Our Rural Character and Desert Lifestyle Preserved

The high desert attracts people for many reasons and despite the drawbacks of rural living, the residents of Homestead Valley choose to live here because of the natural beauty, wide open spaces, fresh air, dark skies, and the peaceful and quiet atmosphere. These important characteristics remain unchanged even as the community continues to grow and evolve. Homestead Valley is also a place of rugged individualism, where residents are afforded the freedom and privacy to live the life they want to live within the expansiveness of the natural desert environment.

Improved Access to Water Resources and Improved Infrastructure

Water availability is a critical element to life in Homestead Valley with the prosperity of the community dependent upon access to adequate water supplies. A water management committee consisting of community members is set up to ensure the sustainability of community water supplies and to provide input to the County of San Bernardino on solutions to water accessibility, with hauled water and other solutions remaining options. The community has a formal way to notify the County of other infrastructure issues such as damaged roads or electricity delivery problems, improving service times and helping to make the community function more efficiently.

Scenic Highway Designation for SR 247

State Route 247 provides Homestead Valley with a transportation backbone that vitally links the four communities of Yucca Mesa, Flamingo Heights, Landers, and Johnson Valley. The historic significance and natural scenic beauty of the highway are irrefutable, as recognized by the official designation of State Route 247 as a Scenic Highway. As part of the designation, a Corridor Protection Program protects and enhances the scenic resources along the highway. Land uses and activities that could negatively impact the scenic value of the highway are prevented from encroaching into the corridor and the interest generated by the Scenic Highway designation draws more tourists to the area. As a result, the designation enhances the quality of life for Homestead Valley residents while encouraging economic growth within the community.

A Sense of Community

Although the Homestead Valley Communities are separated by expanses of open desert, the residents of Homestead Valley overcame any lack of cohesion by building off of their common traits – friendly, helpful, resourceful people – to bring the community closer together through local events, activities, social functions, and art shows. The use of social media keeps Homestead Valley residents “in the know” and provides an easy way for neighbors to stay connected. These efforts have helped to strengthen the sense of community within Homestead Valley.

Homestead Valley Communities Profile

Homestead Valley Communities, San Bernardino County

Community Profile

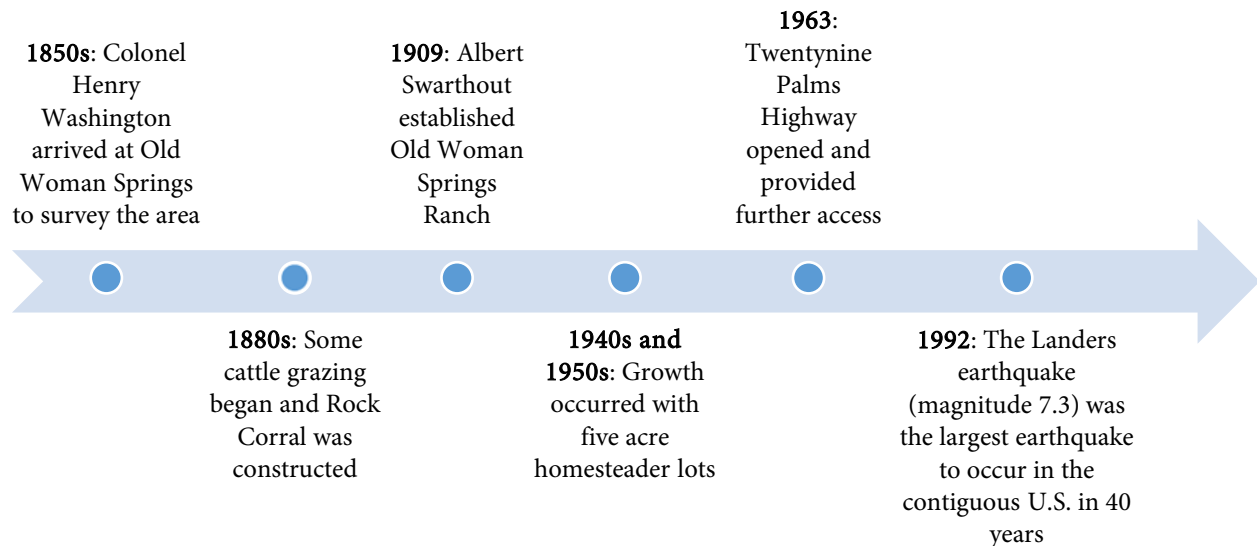

Purpose

The community profile is a summary of the social, cultural, economic, and historic dimensions of Homestead Valley Communities. It presents data collected through secondary sources to inform future actions. The profile, together with future studies and information gathered from residents, highlights essential facets and “tells the story” of the Homestead Valley Communities.

The initial objective research prepared for the community profile was provided to participants as a handout at each community workshop to provide a basis for discussion during the SWOT (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats), values, and aspirations exercises. Workshop participants were asked to review the information and provide comments as a way to infuse local knowledge into the community plans process. Their feedback was used to finalize the community profile, which includes objective research and issue identification by community workshop participants.

The objective information, community stories, and public’s participation in the community profile, SWOT, values, and aspirations exercises were all used when developing the framework for the focus and action statements that make up the community plan.

History

Archeological finds indicate that the Serrano tribe traveled through the Homestead Valley region occupying the region intermittently. Cattle grazing begun in the 1880s and the Rock Corral was constructed. In 1909, Albert Swarthout established Old Woman Springs Ranch, where cattle grazed during the winter and were driven to the mountains for the summer. By the 1940’s and 1950’s, Homestead Valley saw some growth with five acre homesteader lots and in 1963, the Twentynine Palms Highway opened up the area to further development. The Giant Rock was a sacred meeting place for California Native Americans and since the 1950s it has become a popular site for those interested in natural land forms and spiritual beliefs. In 1992, Landers had a magnitude 7.3 earthquake, the largest earthquake to have occurred in the contiguous United States in 40 years.

Community Structure (Physical Characteristics)

The Homestead Valley Communities consists primarily of single-family dwellings on large lots from 14,000 to 40 acres. Homes are generally one-story and set far back from the roads with property lines delineated by a fence. There is a large amount of open space between each home and most yards are not landscaped. A large portion of the community area is designated as Resource Conservation, in which the natural landscape, which consists of Joshua trees and desert, are preserved. There are small commercial uses along Old Woman Spring Highway (SR-247), consisting of one-story buildings with surface parking in front and large amounts of open space between uses.

The major roadways in the community area are a major highway (SR-247), Aberdeen Drive, and Avalon Avenue. All major roadways are paved with 2 lanes. Most local roads are unpaved and lack pedestrian facilities. A truck route runs along Old Woman Springs Road. Only a few major roads in this community are county maintained. Most roads are privately maintained.

The Walk Score rating for Homestead Valley ranges from 0 to 5 out of 100, indicating that the community area is car-dependent and requires almost all errands to be done with a vehicle. In addition, there are no bicycle facilities within the area. Public transportation is provided on the weekdays through the Morongo Basin Transit Authority (MBTA) Route 21 (Landers Loop), which also connects the community area to the Yucca Valley Transit Center.

Air Quality: Table 5 below shows the air quality near the Homestead Valley Communities, measured at the Joshua Tree – National Monument monitoring site, in terms of the number of days that area exceeded the federal standards for pollutants (exceedance days). The table shows that the monitoring site near the Homestead Valley Communities had fewer exceedance days for each pollutant than that of the overall Mojave Air Basin, in which the Homestead Valley Communities are located.

Air pollution is one of the contributing factors linked to the development of chronic diseases such as stroke, heart disease, lung cancer, and respiratory diseases. By reducing levels of ambient pollution (outdoor air pollution), communities can lessen the impact that it has on resident's health.

Modified Food Index: The Modified Food Index maps the availability of healthy food in a census tract. The lower the score, the less available healthy options are in the area.

The entire plan area of the Homestead Valley Communities ranks within the lowest category for food access, meaning that there is access to less than 5 healthy food outlets within that area. Lower scores indicate that these areas contain many convenience stores and fast food restaurants compared to the number of healthy food markets.

Community Engagement Summary

As a part of the Community Plans Continuum process, community members from the Homestead Valley Communities were invited to participate in two community workshops. The first workshop, titled “What We Value”, took place on September 12th, 2016 from 6:00 – 8:30pm at the Johnson Valley Improvement Association Community Center. This workshop was attended by 28 community members. Workshop participants performed a SWOT analysis to identify strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats within the community. Following that exercise, participants used that information to share what they valued about the community (Values) and what they want to see the community become in the future (Aspirations). Lastly, workshop participants worked on forming the draft focus and action statements that form the backbone of the community plan.

The second workshop, titled “Our Roadmap to Making it Happen”, took place on November 17th, 2016 from 6:00 – 8:30pm at the Yucca Mesa Community Center. This workshop was attended by 23 community members. The purpose of this workshop was to continue to develop the draft focus and action statements created in workshop #1. The project team provided word for word summaries of the SWOT and Values and Aspirations exercises to use during the goal setting process. The workshop was primarily used to help prioritize the focus statements developed in the previous workshop while also identifying possible champions for each effort.

Information was also made available on project websites made specifically for each community. This information included:

- Background materials on the project
- Materials developed for each workshop
- Summaries of the information collected from past workshops
- Surveys developed to follow the process of each meeting and allow for further input

Community Identified Issues

SWOT Analysis

This section contains the results of the SWOT analysis conducted during the first workshop. A SWOT exercise stands for strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats and is used to help gain insight into the community through local knowledge. In the first part, participants identify their communities’ biggest strengths, such as community assets like a library or community center, along with their biggest weaknesses, which could be a lack of open space or high rates of internal crime. Next, workshop participants looked at opportunities that the community could take advantage of as part of the community plans process. This builds off of what was identified in the strengths and weaknesses portion. Lastly, participants identify external threats to the community. These are generally concerns that are outside of the control of community members, such as natural disasters or changes in economic conditions. This information was then compiled and used throughout the rest of the community plans process to inform the values and aspirations exercises conducted at workshop #1, as well as the focus and actions statements.
